Sore on leg healed after years of suffering

San Francisco, Cal., Sept. 10:—
"I just want to let you know what your Resinol has done for me. For many years I had a bad sore on my leg. I had tried a number of different treatments, including Electric Baths and different recommended salves. I suffered terribly at times as my work compelled me to be on my feet a great deal. Several weeks ago I saw Resinol advertised and in desperation I bought a small jar of this Ointment, not believing it would do me any good. How-

MEETING THE THREAT OF A COAL SHORTAGE.

The probability of avoiding a strike in the union roal fields is generally considered remote. The operators want to adjust wages to meet the competition of the nonunion fields and the miners insist upon maintaining the present scale. Thus far there has been no indication from either side of a willingness to compromise.

One way open to the public of minimizing the evil effects of a coal strike is to burn less coal. Up-todate furnaces in homes, factories, and office buildings would effect a saving of millions of tons. Owners may find, upon investigation, that the cost of replacing an old model furnace with a new one the coal bills. The economy is worth looking into for its own sake as well as for the general good have made the campaign one of unbelievable non-

The American public was told for months that the submarine was a parbarous agency of German frightfulness and it is with difficulty that its great value to us has been brought into consideration at all. Admiral Degouy must try to understand that our specific inclinations and tendency to sentimentalize offset expert advice in all our defense problems and we are not under such pressure as to force us to think. That, truly enough, is reason for French reluctance to enter a conference which might result in conclusions dangerous to French defense or embarrassing to French policy.

From the viewpoint of our own defense, we ought carefully to guard our right to develop the submarine. Our policy is not aggressive and the submarine would be of great value in the defense of our shores and of strategic positions like the isthmus and Caribbean which are a part of our defense. We need it and a well developed aviation to threaten enemy expeditions and break up their communications. If we consent to limitations, it should be for substantial counter

The proressional prohibitionists have insisted that the failure of prohibition lay in the failure of enforcement and was not inherent in the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act. Congress has given virtually everything asked for in appropriations. International agreements have been made to prevent rum running and now enforcement is, in truth, vested with the league itself. Haynes is the league's man. It cannot complain of official indifference when it can control the enforcement activities. The administration removes itself from league criticism by giving the law over to the league. It passed it and now may enforce it.

read your article on alkalosis. Having all the symptoms as de-scribed, with the exception of headache and nauses, am wondering if I could be suffering with acidosis as menned in your article? Please write an article on acidosis, symptoms, and diet.

REPLY Acidosis is the group of conditions in which the body's stock of excess alkali runs too low. The body is very slightly alkaline, using the term in the ordinary sense. All of the secretions are alkaline except two. One of these is alkaline nally: the other is never so.

In order to keep this alkaline reaction just right, an excess of alkali is stored to be freely drawn as need arises. Whenever this stock begins to run low certain danger signals are run up. Some

There are at least two kinds of acidosis in people who eat too much meat, eggs, ead and cereals, and too little vegetables and fruits. When foods are taken into the body they are burned into energy and ash. The production of energy waste product. This is the great acid waste of the body. To neutralize i while it is in the body a great deal of alkali is required. Once it is thrown off in the body this alkali is free to neutralize more carbonic or other acids. Meat, bread, and cereals make ash which exhaust the body reserve of alkali. Fruits and vegetables make ash which adds to that reserve. The acidosis which is due principally to eating an

Rambling through the Want Ads

FVER take a ramble through the Want Ads? If you haven't you've missed a lot of fun-a lot of good cozy daydreaming and, yes, quite often a chance to save some real money! Here's the way one Chicago business man explained it to a friend:

I went through The Tribune Want Ad Section just the other day, put my feet on the window sill, lit the old pipe and went a ramblin' on through. And I cut out-just for my own amusement-the ads that gave me the biggest kick. Look, I've got 'em here.

Here's the first one! Read it and see if it doesn't revive some old boyhood dreams:

Jiu-Jitsu! The art of throwing a 200pound man on his ear with one simple, deft movement. That's what interests me. After a few lessons in that stuff I wouldn't mind the dark Chicago streets so much! And say, you're a Republican. I think you'll get a kick out of this one. Read it:

That's pretty good, isn't it? I mean the way they tie-up the Want Ads with the news columns. You know, Cal is really thinking about coming west this summer and these real estate fellows are already capitalizing on it!

Now here's another good one, but for heaven's sake don't let Junior see it:

WANTED SHETLAND PONY AND OUTFIT

Some lucky kid is going to be the envy. of the neighborhood. You know a pony and cart are hard to find in these gasoline days. Well, there's lots of ways to make kids happy. Here's another way some kid is going to be made happier:

Kind of tough? Sort of makes you want to lend a hand. If we had room here-but, then, I know these want ad readers. They'll swamp that kid with offers and I'll bet he gets into a real nice home where he'll get the best of attention. And maybe they'll get him a dog! A comical dog like this:

TOY BOSTONS, SCREW TAILS, BAT EARS.

A screw-tailed, bat-eared Toy Boston dog! It'd be kind of fun to have one of those around here, but-hey, jiggers! Here comes Junior again! Now, about that power boat you said Jenkins owned-I wonder if he'd be interested in selling it? Here's a gent that ought to be a good prospect from the way his ad reads:

Boy! I bet that baby has the wanderlust! "The best boat $2,000 will buy." Well, he ought to find what he wants, all right. Personally, though, I think I'll stick to the good, old dry land. And if I had enough money, here's the kind of a "boat" I'd buy:

Gosh! I'd almost rob a bank to get a car like that. Think how you could travel with that thing! Say, that reminds me. Look at this ad; no, here, this one:

I've got a brother-in-law that owns a place like that about 50 miles the other side of Milwaukee. And, boy, does he make money! Now, here's that ad I started to show you by mistake, The Better Half picked this one. She looked over my shoulder and spotted it right off. Read it and see what you think of it:

The wife claims we could pick up some wonderful stuff there. Maybe so. Anyway, she says she is going over and take a look around. I suppose she'll come home followed by a moving van and then we'll have to use a Tribune Want Ad ourselves to sell enough furniture to make room for the new stuff!

That's the way to take a ramble through the Want Ads. You just cruise along and muse along and every once in awhile you'll strike just the thing you want! Get into the habit of rambling regularly through The Chicago Tribune Want Ad section. You'll find it very enjoyable, very fascinating and an excellent means of saving yourself some real money!

Delightful Poetry for Young Penned by Dorothy Aldis

"Anything and Boorything," by Der othy Aldie (Minton Balch).

Once in a while a very long while there is a book of verse that is really the simple, delicious, joyous thing that children's verse should be that is poetry from the point of view of the child, not the sophisticated kind of thing that makes grownups laugh and children stare and wonder. Such and children stare and wonder. Such a volume of verse is "Anything and Everything," by Dorothy Aldis. It is wholly and delightfully charming. There isn't a thing in it that children could not understand, that isn't fundamentally the child's and not the mother's reaction, and yet it isn't soppy or stilly or gushy. It is the kind of book that makes you lyric yourself. There are moods in it like: are moods in it like:

There are things Feet know that hands never will: The exciting

Of running down a hill The soft cool Prickliness When feet are bare Walking in The summer grass To most anywhere

In the Mercury, H. L. Mencken says:

"It May Color the Whole Stream of National Thought-"

Fanny Butcher says:

"It is going to stir the country as no book for years has stirred it. No critical judgment can deny that Sinclair Lewis has done in it by far the best literary work of a distinguished literary career."

New York Times (Elmer Davis) says:

"It will be read by people who have heretofore taken religion at its face value, and are rather less likely to do so again."

The Nation (Joseph Wood Krutch) says:

"A completeness of documentation not less than amazing, a power of mimicry which so far as I know, no living author can equal."

"Readable and exciting from beginning to end. An important and valuable novel."-THE OUTLOOK.

"Out of it leaps the most dreadful and perfect portrait of a man of God since Rabelais painted Friar John. The possible effects of 'Elmer Gantry' are incalculable."-H. L. MENCKEN, American Mercury.

the most crotic books in the American business have been published in Boston, but have been sold by subscription, which makes them wholly moral in the cyes of the law. The society and the police department have divided the work formerly done by the late Rev. Chase and have kept his memory very green. They say that the mail orders for the suppressed books are flooding the publisher's offices. Whether or not the books may be bootlegged by mail remains what is called an open secret.

At any rate, one astute person in Boston said that he thought the publicity of the suppressed over a periods was very cleverly done, because the solves were cavely whether or provide the story broke just in time to make every one rush out and buy a copy of "Elmer Gantry" in case it, too came and were not the public of the suppressed over a period of five or six weeks, but quietly, and the story broke just in time to make every one rush out and buy a copy of "Elmer Gantry" in case it, too came and the suppressed of the suppressed or the story of the clergyman who poisoned girl from Cape Cod, using to obtain a speriod of five or six weeks, but quietly, and the story broke just in time to make every one rush out and buy a copy of "Elmer Gantry" in case it, too came and for the suppression of the make every one rush out and buy a copy of "Elmer Gantry" in case it, too came and for the suppression of the suppression of the half of the composer of the great metropolitan, and the story broke just in time to make every one rush of the suppression of the clergyman who poisoned agrif from Cape Cod, using to obtain a speriod of five or six weeks, but quietly, and the story broke just in time to make every one rush of the clergyman who poisoned agrif from Cape Cod, using to obtain the proposal of the clergyman who poisoned agrif from Cape Cod, using to obtain the proposal of the clergyman who poisoned agrif from Cape Cod, using to obtain the clergyman who poisoned agrif from Cape Cod, using to obtain the clergyman who poisoned agrif from Cape Cod She was not, I am sure, the Ta- meet there "Frawncis" about to depart for Chinett's absence, for the two men are sity, where his son is at the present cago again, and Mrs. Brett Young very good friends, and Mr. Lewis has time. His "Orient Express" is of a trip he took many years ago to the Orient. There was also John Vander cook, author of "Tom Tom," and he gave me the greatest jolt I had, for he is distinctly one of the "younger generation" that every one is always talking about, apparently just a boy. And the work he did in "Tom Tom was scientific and really important. and not just the youthful zest kind of thing. His picture is not published, understand, for that very reason.

"---tell me a good novel to read. How many times do you ask this question in a year? And whom do you ask?

Why don't you ask the First Edition Society Jury?

Their unbiased and composite recommendation for the month of March is "Elmer Gantry," by Sinclair Lewis. "Elmer Gantry" was published on March 10th. Promptly on the tenth a first edition copy of "Elmer Gantry" was sent to every preferred member of the First Edition Society. There are no more first edition copies of "Elmer Gantry" available. If you enroll as a preferred member now we will not be able to supply "Elmer Gantry" in a first edition. We can, however, send you "The Allinghams," by May Sinclair, in a FIRST EDITION until April 1st. "The Allinghams," published March 22nd, is our Jury's second choice.

By joining the First Edition Society, Inc., (which you can do at present as a Preferred Member, without dues of any kind) you will be among the very first each month to read and discuss the outstanding novel which will be on everybady's tongue. The Novel chosen, by the Jury as the outstanding work of fiction each month will be sent to you for 12 consecutive months. The bill at the Publisher's regular retail price plus a new cents postage will be enclosed. No book will be sent to you that lists for more than $3.00.

A critical review of other exceptionally good books will be sent at the same time. You will receive only first edition books just as soon as they are released by the publisher each month. This guarantees automatically prompt and immediate delivery! And First Edition Books increase in actual value. Any subscriber in good standing has the privi-lege of cancelling his subscription at any time should the Jury's choice be unacceptable. #### Funeral Services Today for Michael M. Hayes

Hayes, who was a Cook county commissioner in the early 80's, will be held today at 9:30 a, m. from the residence, 138 South Parkside avenue, to St. Catherine's church. Mr. Hayes died on Thursday at the age of 73. He cumulated within a single country was employed by the city in the public works department before he retired a few years ago.

JAMES E. MULVEY, for many years an employé of the city's bureau of engineering, will be buried today at All Saints' cemetery, following funeral services in St. Ita's church at 10 a. m. Mr. Mulvey, who was 67 years old, died of Thursday at his home, 1319 Winona avenue, of cerebral hemorrhage. A widow, one son and one daughter survive.

Within the last few days the upward trend in our gold holdings, in progress since early last year, carried the figure above $4,570,067,000, the mark established in December, 1924.

It had been freely predicted by bankers and economists when the adverse gold movement set in during 1925 that never again, and certainly not in this generation, would that peak be equaled.

The very next noon she had such a headache from the sun she had be guit work and drive back to the hotel. Westcott wasn't wanted that afterment and she took him in her car. But I kept Mack out to lunch with answay, where we were. 'She's up to something,' said I. 'Let her thin we're going to watch these scenes all afternoon.' We got into Biskra a some behind as we'd dared follow her. But her suite was already shut to be a tomb with all the blinds lowered and a sign on her door, 'Please le Not Knock.'

Mr. Bellows said that the Chicago ell, I went out onto my balcony to see if I could get a slant on hers.

Bending over her and holding her hand, with to me, stood a tall man in a classy white suit and a Panama hat tell you who came into my head. I felt as if he must have zipped on Spain in a submarine! Then he left her. She joined the other with a fling of some kind of veil round her own face, in they all the hotel. So did I later on. And the hotel handed me a surprise mething seemed to go wrong with Lyman's cigar. He took it out of the and look inquiringly at the lighted end, as if astonished that it be behaving unreasonably; restoring it, conditionally, to favor, he said. It pay day for our extras; we had about two thousand. Well, gentleurer had never showed up and here was word for me that there porters, reinvigorated by the change of topic, indicated varying deof expectancy.

Now don't get all heated up about the treasurer, boys, because what the matter with him was just biting on some yarn about all Mohamabeing prohibitionists. In that belief he'd gone into one of their affs and ordered himself a nice cool drink before crossing the desert. He ordered others. We didn't find him till next morning. But as he'd cooling off before he'd even taken the payroll out of the bank it didn't. However, we didn't know that then and searching parties were out of the hotel guests were gone to bed the courtyard was almost dark. But there was a light, very low, in Duicie Jayne's room. And while standing there, getting a breath of air, if out she didn't come on'to alcony, got up regardless in a regular imported ball dress, all silver at turquoises and forgetmenots—the very same dress she wore to the didness and forgetmenots—the very same dress she wore to the did turquoises and forgetmenots—the very same dress she wore to the did to stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind these trial of the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the set of the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the set of the stuff, and they get busy in the corner under the awning behind the set of the stuff, and they get

But I knew I certainly had got to see what was behind those vines. She and the maid had gone back into the room, but over the rail of allony she had left hanging a long light scarf with a silver tassel to it kind of caught the light. It might have been hanging there to give the laugh, it looked so near and easy. And I said to myself, 'If I was laugh, it looked so near and easy. #### Man Haters' Union Is Made Up of Girls Weary of Petting

BY DORIS BLAKE. Young men, I'd call your attention to the desperate lengths to which you are driving young women with your petting insistences. Just read about the Man Haters' union:

"We girls are planning to have a man hater's club which I am sure will be a great success. The club will consist of nothing but nonpetters. Any petters in our club-and out they go! We are going to do this for awhile to see just how the fellows are going

We will go out with a young man and make a record of his actions Each member has to report. If she meets some one who does not ask for kisses she may go out with him again. But she has to give the president a good report before she is privileged to accept a second invitation.

There are eighteen of us an stick together. We are of the good looking and thoroughly to date type, neither soreheads no old maids. Any one wanting to joi ir organization and become a full our rules dictate.-Man Haters' union for the benefit of girls who are sick of the ways of most men."

From further disclosures about the sed organization, it appears that the girls are not only sick of current indling, but they want to find out just how much there is to this "chatter" that drips all over about the preference for old fashioned girls. The number of the eighteen nonpet ters who survive popularity at the end of the probation period is to determine esty of the much spoken pref

I think I am beginning to see a re action on girls' part away from the cheapening effect of being mauled and kissed. One young correspondent recites the conversation of a group of girls she goes around with. They greed that a young man with a repu kissing every one who will stand for it, is quite as unlikely a marriage can-didate, as the much bandled young

"Many a girl prefers a good old fashioned man," she writes, "to one who has gone around with every girl in town. They used to be able to p a lot over on us, but we aren't hal mb as they credit us with being. We don't any more want your much handled goods than they do."

the Road to Beauty

These Exercises

As the shadow under the chin is the first sign of age, so the thickened waist line tells the tale of increasing weight. It is a sign to be avoided or disposed of if it has already made its appearance. The answer to the probem is daily systematic exercise.

Will Start You on

The waist bending and twisting exercises are most effective. I'll outline several of them and ask that you do not delay, but start at once putting them into practice.

Assume a good standing position. Rend the trunk forward until it is at right angles to the legs; exhale on the downward move, and back to po-sition, inhaling. Execute slowly, keeping the knees straight and do not duck the head on the downward move. Bend the trunk back slowly, inhaling on the backward movement, exhaling as you return to position. Do these five times

Arms overhead, fingers clasped, bend to the right five times, then to the left five times. Keep the arms close to the head, knees straight, and feet firmly on the ground.

Knees straight, feet firmly on th ground twist the trunk to the right. The marriage is announced of Miss sideward. Recover position. Then twist Frances Haley to LeRoy Clements of to the left and recover position. In-

Raise the arms overhead; bend the trunk forward and swing the arms downward between the legs; raise the trunk and bend backward, swinging the arms up over the head again. Do this five times and moderately fast. You may add to this by turning at the waist and swinging both arms down

Assume a correct standing position her son, had them for tea in the Pres-level with your heel, for that involves greater waist twisting.

Brugnon and Lacoste Indoor Net Finalists

New York March 25 - [Special.]-For the third time in hardly more than year America's tennis forces have capitulated to France's invaders in national championship play and to morrow afternoon Jean Borotra runner up to Rene Lacoste in both the national indoor and grass court cham

One of the largest galleries that have defenses today when Borotra prevailed over Francis T. Hunter of New East Orange, N. J., at 6-4, 6-1. Not only will the singles title and championship cup go back to France, but there is a strong likelihood that Boro tra and Brugnon will take the double cups with them also. In the semi-final round of the doubles, following the singles matches, the French combination defeated Fred C. Anderson, winner of the doubles last year with William Tilden, and William Aydelotte at 6-3, 7-5. Their opponents in the concluding round, which will follow immediately after the singles final, will be Hunter and Dr. WOODRUFF. CHI TRIB JUST HEARD George King, who eliminated Van Ryn and Kenneth Appel at 6—2, 2—6, 6—3.

Mr. T. Walter Fred, who will be President of the Company, summarizes his letter to the Bankers regarding this Preferred The Company is being organized under the laws of Delaware, to acquire the business of the Davenport Hosiery Mills and Davenport Silk Mills of Chattanooga, Tennessee.

The business was started in 1920 with a capital of about $60,000, and its growth to its present position

The Company manufactures "Humming Bird" and "Blue Crane" silk hosiery for women, which is distributed through 5,000 active accounts representing retail dealers all over the United States.

The demand for the product has been so great that the Company's mills have run steadily at espacity since the inception of the business, and are now running overtime against present orders. The following table shows the

Dozens of Pairs of Hose Manufactured and Sold Per Year

Net profits for the past three years, as certified by Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., were as follows:

Years Ending December 31 Profits before provision for depreciation and Net profits ..... $331,619.54 $412,981.77 $403,498.10* * Before deducting for the year 1926 charges in connection with the installation of a new mill amounting to $54,829.86.

than if the same land is devoted to cultivated crops, according to Hudelson.

It is his observation that, while a mixture of red, alsike, and sweet clover sown with a light seeding of oats will give good summer pasture on land that is not deficient in lime, many look with disfavor on this substitute. "This is tecause the yield looks small," said Hu-delson, "but records have shown an average net profit per acre that com-pares favorably with the harvested crops when costs of production are deducted." He adds that emergency hay crope such as soybeans, cowpeas, sudan grass and millet do not give as cheap feed as alfalfa or clover hay, but they usually will produce feed cheaper than imported hay and they take less cash outlay. beans and cowpeas, being legumes, have the advantage in making better feed and disrupting the rotation less than the sudan grass or millet.

belt farmers can cut down their cash feed costs this year.

That is the opinion R. R. Hudelson, an organization and management expert of the Urbana experiment station, is giving Illinois farmers. Spring sown pasture crops or emergency hay crops should be substituted for the loss of an alfalfable of clover crop wherever it is possible, he advises.

Spring sown crops can be ready for light pasturing by the latter part of May or the first of June, and they can be seeded as early as the ground can be worked. No cultivation is required, and they will disrupt the farm work less than if the same land is devoted to culti-

The National Association of Purchas ing Agents reported coal in industrial fuel piles on Feb. 1 at 57,450,000 tons January of 44,671,000 tons. This was January of 44,671,000 tons. This was an increase of industrial reserve supplies of little over 2,000,000 tons in one month. Coal production in January was high—running 56,882,000 tons.

ly high standard. The four room suite is entered through a good size reception hall 9% by 5 feet, which leads into a living room 18 by 23 feet. The beauty of this room is enhanced by a fireplace and genuinely canvased walls. Off the living room there is a solarium 10 by 18 feet from which there is a beautiful view of the lake and Lake Shore-dr. Access is gained to the dining room through leaded glass French doors both from the solarium and living room. The size of the dining room is 10% by 13 feet. There is a private hall leading to the bed chamber, the size of which is 12 by 18 feet, off of which is the bath. The closet space is unusually good, there being two immense closets off the bed chamber and one exceptionally large closet off the reception hall. Service to the kitchenette is from a private hall, so that all packages are delivered to a package receptacle making it unnecessary to deliver, through the apartment. Garbage removal is handled in the same manner.
